01 The lens: 12 archetypes, 4 core motivations

Each creator is tagged with the brand archetype that best fits how they show up. Sources: confetti.design brand-archetype guide; Impact on "many Indias" cultural archetypes.

Core motivation	Archetypes
Ego (leave a mark)	The Hero, The Outlaw, The Magician
Freedom (find paradise)	The Innocent, The Explorer, The Sage
Social (connect/belong)	The Regular Person (Everyman), The Lover, The Jester
Order (create structure)	The Caregiver, The Ruler, The Creator

Two cohorts are analysed with the same lens: the Feedspot Top-50 Indian Instagram creators (reach tier) and a nano-tier set of small creators (under ~300K followers). Where a creator carries two tags, the first is the primary archetype.

02 Feedspot Top-50: who they are and which archetype they play

03 What the Top-50 says about archetype and reach

Counts and reach use each creator's primary (first-listed) archetype. Computed from the table above.

Archetype	Creators	Total IG reach	% of Top-50 reach
Hero	7	319.4M	74.4%
Jester	8	52.4M	12.2%
Outlaw	2	25.9M	6.0%
Everyman	9	15.1M	3.5%
Sage	3	7.7M	1.8%
Lover	5	2.4M	0.6%
Creator	5	2.3M	0.5%
Caregiver	4	2.0M	0.5%
Innocent	1	1.1M	0.3%
Explorer	3	0.9M	0.2%
Ruler	3	0.2M	0.0%
Magician	0	–	0.0%

OBSERVATION

By creator count, Everyman leads with 9 creators, followed by Jester (8). By reach the picture flips: Hero holds 74% of the Top-50's total reach (319M), almost entirely because Virat Kohli (272.2M) and Samantha (38.1M) sit in it. Strip out the celebrity heroes and the creator-native archetypes (Everyman, Jester, Outlaw) are where the relatable, platform-built accounts cluster.

04 Re-tagging with evidence

Where the first-pass tag was ambiguous, press coverage was checked and the tag revised.

Creator	Now tagged	Why	Source
Virat Kohli	Hero	Coverage centers on discipline, family-man public image the standard Hero pattern. Follower figure (272.2M)	en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Virat_Kohli hypeauditor.com sportsyaari.com
Samantha (Ruth Prabhu)	Hero	Public narrative comes from chronic illness and divorce turned into sucecess.	farhanabhatt.com india.entrepreneur.com
Ajey Nagar (CarryMinati)	Outlaw	Roast/parody content repeatedly crosses lines a 2026 Mumbai court order over content aimed at Karan Johar, plus a history of earlier takedowns.	newsx.com thereelstars.com
Bhuvan Bam	Jester	"BB Ki Vines" is straightforward sketch comedy; press describes him in comedian/entertainer terms only. Clean Jester match.	en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bhuvan_Bam
Ashish Chanchlani	Jester	Consistently described as slapstick, family-friendly comedy — squarely Jester.	iwmbuzz.com
Gaurav Taneja (Flying Beast)	Sage	Coverage does not frame him around travel/discovery. It emphasizes technical expertise (IIT-Kharagpur engineer, certified nutritionist, commercial pilot) and a whistleblowing stand-off over unsafe procedures. Expertise + integrity = Sage, with the whistleblowing as a Hero secondary.	arisepedia.org iitkgpalumnifoundation.in trippdiary.com
Tanmay Bhat	Jester	Co-founder of AIB; career built on stand-up and sketch/roast-adjacent comedy.	en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Tanmay_Bhat
Kenny Sebastian	Jester	Stand-up comedian and Comicstaan judge — straightforward Jester.	en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Kenny_Sebastian

07 Why relatability wins at nano scale

Three supporting sources behind the "relatable peer" (Everyman) lead.

Concept	Finding	Source
Parasocial relationship theory	paper on the one-sided sense of intimacy an audience forms with a media persona. The underlying mechanism behind why nano creators read as more genuine than mega accounts.	jean-pfiffelmann.com
Micro-influencer credibility	followers of micro-influencers report higher parasocial interaction and perceived credibility than followers of macro accounts; macro influencers risk being seen as 'overly commercial.'	sciencedirect.com
"A person like me" trust effect	widely-cited industry finding that 'a person like me' is trusted more than celebrities, CEOs, or brand spokespeople. Directly supports Everyman's nano-tier lead: Everyman is the 'relatable peer' archetype.	edelman.com
